Paper submission deadline is 31st of May 2015

The 13th Scandinavian AI conference, SCAI 2015, will be held in Halmstad, Sweden, on 5th and 6th of November, 2015. The conference is co-organised by Center for Applied Intelligent Systems Research at Halmstad University, and SAIS, the Swedish Artificial Intelligence Society.

For the main conference, submissions from all areas of Artificial Intelligence are invited. This includes, but is not limited to:

Machine Learning, Data Mining, Knowledge Representation and Reasoning, Planning and Scheduling, Natural Language, Computer Vision, Search Algorithms, Multi-Agent Systems, Big Data, Artificial Life, Cognitive Robotics, Probabilistic Graphical Models, Industrial Applications, and Philosophical Foundations. Papers must contain original, previously unpublished contributions on AI theory, methods, or applications.

Submitted papers will be reviewed by at least two members of the program committee, and can be accepted either for plenary or poster presentation.

Keynote speakers for SCAI 2015 include Christopher Nugent, Professor of Biomedical Engineering and the head of Smart Environments Research Group at University of Ulster, who will give a talk about analysis of data from smart environments and wearable sensors; and Christine Chevallereau, Research Director at Institut de Recherche en Communications et Cybernétique de Nantes, who will give a talk about modelling and control of bipedal robots.

As a part of the conference, on 4th of November 2015, we will organize a Doctoral Symposium, as well as two thematic workshops: "Intelligent and connected vehicles" and "Intelligent environments supporting health and well-being". The 2015 edition of SCAI will also debut a dedicated networking event to facilitate cooperation, both on the EU level as well as targeting funding opportunities specific to individual Scandinavian countries.

All accepted papers will be included in the conference proceedings, published by IOS press as part of the Frontiers in Artificial Intelligence and Applications series.

Paper submission will be handled through the EasyChair system at <https://easychair.org/conferences/?conf=scai2015>
