Examiner's course analysis

Based on the course evaluation result - which are the strengths of the course?

- The participants seem to really like the course literature. The course literature was already updated for this year and I believe this has worked.
- They specifically like the live sessions. It has always been my belief that even though this is a self-paced reading course, we need to have short live sessions weekly for on-boarding those participants that keep joining in in the later stages.
- They liked the theme lectures and specifically the lectures that are connected to the current research of the teachers.

Based on the course evaluation result - which are the weaknesses of the course?

- This year, for the first time, we received comments on the fact that the instructions for the exam were long. Reviewing the instructions, I definitely agree. I think our course participants do not need so much explanation as they are already insightful professionals.
- One participant had made note of how I had not responded to them for which I am very sorry. I take course communication extremely seriously to the point of responding to students out of my own working hours and on the spot. I must have missed that one which I rarely do.

Conclusion and suggestions for course development or already made decisions

- Shorten the exam instructions, and include a template instead.
- Keep all the live sessions. Perhaps incorporate one more research-related lecture/introduction session.
